Miss Carol Channing
National Theatre
1325 K Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

Dear Miss Channing:

I very much enjoyed your performance last evening at the National Theatre, as well as that of the other members of the entire cast. It was a perfectly-acted, wholly delightful, and most unusual evening of entertainment--long to be kept in memory.

In view of the content of one of the best of your songs, may I be so bold as to invite your attention to a grammatical slip of identical nature in your otherwise extremely well-done piece "Lorelei Lee vs. Ruth Sherwood," as printed in the National Theatre's program?

With all good wishes, I am,

Sincerely,

WILLIAM F. FRIEDMAN
