SUBJECT: WFF's proposal for a contract

By all means NSA should get what Mr. Friedman proposes. These lectures would have a strong impact on newly hired employees, what with Mr. Friedman's position in the business and his flair for the dramatic and interesting.

I agree with Louman that filmed talks would be much better, and well worth the expense while we're at it.

As interesting as the first proposed contract would be, I think that WFF's suggestion re further classified lectures be encouraged — we have nothing like them in the business now.
